

Clarification on AI-Related Engagement Requests

I've been receiving multiple requests for AI-related professional engagements—thank you for thinking of me! I truly appreciate the opportunities. However, due to my current career commitments (and potential expansion therein), I'm unable to take on additional projects, even part-time. That's why my LinkedIn profile now clearly states: "Not Open to Work." 🙏

On the social front:

- ✅ I'm already writing a weekly column, so no additional authoring is possible.
- ✅ I'm engaged as a visiting faculty, so I can't take on more teaching/training/talks.
- ✅ My Office Hours initiative (Saturday afternoons, 1:1s, free for all) is fully booked for the coming months.

I'm sharing this to avoid any misunderstanding when I'm unable to respond positively to new requests.

 Looking ahead:

When I do have availability in the future (even part-time), I'll be happy to consider opportunities. Typically, I evaluate professional engagement requests based on at least two out of three factors:

 Exceptional monetary benefits (think US-level compensation in $)

 Significant reach & impact on a wider audience

 Personal growth opportunities—I love learning from brilliant minds

I appreciate your understanding and will keep you posted when things open up. Thanks again for all the support! 🙌🙌
