🚀 During my talks and advisory discussions, I keep noticing a serious gap. Many people are actively looking for a job or a career change, while others have open roles that just don't get filled, especially in 'AI development'.

In such cases, I do refer those I can remember. But to make this process more effective (more recall & less precision is fine 😊), I want to expand my limited memory into a proper database that I can use when suitable match is seen on the radar.

So, if you're seriously looking for opportunities in 'AI development' and have done hands-on work, especially in LLM-based applications, please write to me at 📧 yogeshkulkarni [at] yahoo [dot] com

Use the following format only 📧

Subject: AI Development <Total Experience in years (Hands-on AI experience)>

And the email body to have only these 3 things:

- Frameworks used: e.g. LangChain, LlamaIndex, etc.
- RAG Projects: Link to your GitHub repo folder showing your own working implementations
- Certifications completed: e.g. Azure AI Fundamentals, etc.

📎 'Attach your PDF resume' (1–2 pages max) named as

`Resume_AIDevelopment_FirstnameLastname.pdf`

No greetings, no 'Hi'/'Hello', no cover letter, as I might process these emails via automation.

⚠️ Please don't email me if you don't meet these requirements. I'll have to ignore those, hope that's okay.

No job guarantees here, I'll just try to do the matchmaking as best I can. And yes, this is voluntary, not monetary. You don't pay me, and I don't pay you.

If you're not ready yet but want to enter this field, plenty of (often free) resources are out there. No excuses. 💪
