Learning Watercolor

The Gallery of my experiments...

I wanted to be a painter. Visuals, colors and most importantly the abstraction (picking what to show from what's seen) fascinates me. In school probably I was known more for my artistic inclination. Later, even in education in engineering and later in professional life, chose topic related to shapes, the Geometric Modeling. Pursued my childhood hobby over weekends. Here are some attempts, some raw, some laughable, some inspired/copied, but all, painted by me:

Bananas at Kelshi, Konkan

A collage of three images. On the left is a painting of a traditional building with a tiled roof and a porch, surrounded by trees and foliage. In the center is a photograph of a workshop or studio interior where several people are gathered around tables, possibly working on art projects. On the right is a grid-based puzzle, specifically a Sudoku grid, with numbers and letters filled in according to the rules of the game.
